Commentary

IXP opens at 7022; 7 points above previous close. Volatility has increased of today's trading. The market reached the highest at 7028 but due to the selling pressure that reduced the buying liquidity from %61 to %49 the index fell to reach the lowest at 6986 testing the strength of the support level at 6980, and then closed at 7008; 7 points below previous close. liquidity ratio at the end of the day shows 49% buy and 51% sell. The market is relatively still weak and needs higher liquidity to be able to break the resistance at 7060, otherwise it might fell back to reach the support level at 6980. Closing below 6980 might lead to a big correction wave.
