Commentary

IXP opens at 7022; 7 points below previous close. The decrease in liquidity made the market too volatile as most of the investors are aiming more towards buy and sell at the same day trading. The resistance at 7026 was broken but with low trades so might see a fall back in the next few days before reaching the next resistance at 7060. The support is still at 6980. The index closed at 7042; 13 points above previous close. liquidity ratio at the end of the day shows 44% buy and 56% sell. Depends on the first quarter results, we might reach the strongest resistance at 7091-7100 and move towards previous peaks above 8400.
