Commentary

IXP opens at 6735; 7 points below previous close. Trading was on a horizontal trend for most of the day. Expected resistance was at 6780 which couldn't reach it today due to the low trading. Unless we witness trades higher than 40 million KD the index will not be able to break the resistance, and as expected the market fell back in the last 30 min with selling wave pushed the index to close at 6711; 30 points below previous close. Current support level is at 6722, breaking it will push it further down to reach 6680 and then 6600. Correction targets stay the same at 6345-6325.
