Commentary

IXP opens at 6857; 3 points above previous close. Expected resistance at 6866, and 6885, support at 6838 and 6810. The price index reached the near the resistance but failed to break it due to the low trades and fell to reach the lowest point at 6819 breaking the support level at 6838 and then closed at 6843; 11 points below previous close. liquidity ratio at the end of the day shows 57% buy and 43% sell. the market is not bad as there is no panic or selling pressure but the low trades isn't giving the index the power to break the resistance and reach previous peaks. Some "Market Makers" buy and sell stocks in the same day which keeps the index trades between the resistance and support. 2 weeks left for the Q1 result deadline period.
